

WARRANTY, BADGE REFINISHING & MODIFICATION SERVICES

Refinishing Information:

- Refinishing will not remove deep scratches or digs in the metal but will restore the badge finish to a bright luster.
When a badge is refinished the detail in the design, lettering, and enamel are re-polished so after a badge is refinished more than once the design and lettering will be less distinct and may not be able to hold enamel due to the shallowness of the incised lettering
*Enamel on a badge may crack or chip when a badge is refinished. Refinishing is done at the owner's risk.
We will only refinish a badge manufactured by Blackinton.
There is a maximum of 50 badges per month per department that can be sent back for refinishing.
Our high-end badge finishes: Hi-Glo, Rho-Glo, Two-Tone, and VHB Karat Klad are refinished for free, and *enamel is fixed for free; although all high-end badges will incur a shipping and handling charge of $12.00 / per style per order.
The cost to refinish non-warranty finishes is $32.00 / badge wholesale.

Risk: Refinishing is done at the owner's risk. All requests for refinishing are subject to inspection and acceptance at the factory. We reserve the right to refuse your badge if we feel the badge will not be restored to suitable condition for reuse.

* Enamel: Because hard enamel is fired in an oven at 1500 degrees we cannot re-enamel hard enamel because this process must occur at the beginning stage of badge manufacturing. We will make every effort to fix the enamel with an alternate material if it chips, but it may look inconsistent with hard fired enamel. Regular enamel can be re-enameled and the cost to do so is included in the refinishing charge.
